KULTURFORUM POTSDAMER PLATZ BERLIN

PART OF TOWN Tiergarten | RENTAL FEE upon request

THE LOCATION

Situated in the heart of Berlin - between Potsdamer Platz and the embassy district - lies the Kulturforum. Based on a design by the architect Rolf Gutbrod from 1969, an ensemble of four museums was developed until 1998, which is connected by a central entrance hall.

The Kulturforum presents paintings of the 13th to 18th century in the Gemäldegalerie (Old Master Paintings), art-historical literature in the Kunstbibliothek (Art Library), drawings and watercolors at the Kupferstichkabinett (Museum of Prints and Drawings) as well as arts and crafts from the Middle Ages to the present at the Kunstgewerbemuseum (Museum of Decorative Arts).

The spacious entrance hall provides space for events with numerous guests. In the warmer months receptions can take place on the Piazzetta in front of the Kulturforum overlooking the magnificent architectural backdrop of the nearby Potsdamer Platz.
